U.S. WARSHIP ELUDES PACK OF NAZI SUBS

Crippled Destroyer Blakeley Reaches Port At St. Lucia

ONE OR MORE NAZI SUBS DESTROYED

Yankee Planes Take Part In Battle In British West Indies

(By Associated Press) ST. LUCIA, British West Indies, May 27. — (Delayed)—The United States destroyer Blakeley reached port here tonight after coming safely through an attack by a wolf pack of Axis submarines which precipitated a naval battle.

The Blakeley, crippled by a torpedo in a first submarine attack off Martinique Monday, was making the 20-mile run from Port de France, where she put in on Monday, to this island under her own power when the enemy attacked.

Outcome Not Disclosed

The detailed outcome of this battle, other than the Blakeley's escape, has not been disclosed.

It was indicated, however, that one or more German submarines had been destroyed by United States planes, but whether in this encounter or in earlier operations following the first attack on the Blakeley was not made clear.

Naval authorities have been aware that a submarine wolf pack was operating in this area; hence the multiple attack on the Blakeley was no surprise.

This made it impossible to identify any submarine destroyed as the one which made the first attack Monday, when a torpedo launched from within French equatorial waters off Martinique crippled the destroyer, on regular patrol duty off the French island.

The Blakeley is known to have suffered loss of six men killed and 12 wounded (but the dispatch did not make clear whether in Monday's attack or the second one).

Near French Ship

During her two-day stay in Port de France, the port of Martinique, the Blakeley was tied up alongside the French aircraft carrier Bearn, which figures prominently in current negotiations between the United States and the local Martinique authorities looking toward effective neutralization of the island.

Members of the destroyer's crew reported the French were most hospitable.

Officers of the Blakeley said the behavior of their men in both submarine encounters had been exemplary.

Synthetic Rubber in Making

First batch of chemigum, a synthetic rubber, is seen rolling from the intricate maze of reactors and tanks in the new government-sponsored addition to the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company's plant at Akron, O. In Washington, President Roosevelt continued to be optimistic about the rubber situation, telling newsmen that he believed certain substitutes for automobile tires would be developed before they wore too thin. However, other officials were gloomy over the outlook.

U.S. READY FOR SECOND FRONT

Men and Materials for European Drive Promised By Somervell

(By Associated Press) LONDON, May 28.—Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, general commanding the United States army service of supply, asserted today that the United States stands ready to supply "men and materials on a large scale to a European battle-front" despite large commitments in Australia and India.

He said these movements of men and supplies could be accomplished despite the shipping shortage, and added that one of his main tasks in London would be to carry out "standardization of British and American fighting equipment to the limit."

General Somervell, here with other high officers of the United States army and navy, said American troops likely would be using British equipment on some scale, both in the air and on the ground.

Replying to questions about American production, he said "it will reach its peak this fall."

"The whole armament program is ahead of schedule—particularly tanks," he added.

He said he had been conferring with the admiralty, air ministry and war office as well as with British supply services.

MEXICO SET TO DECLARE WAR

President Camacho Cheerful As He Hits Violations by Axis

(By Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, May 28.—President Manuel Avila Camacho called upon an emergency session of congress today to declare Mexico at war with the Axis—the first declaration of war in her history—and place the nation immediately upon a fighting footing.

In a chamber of deputies alternately gravenly silent, then ringing with the tumultuous cheers of "Viva Mexico," the president pledged all the resources of the nation to "collaborate energetically in saving America."

His appeal to the congress and by radio to the nation declared that Mexican neutrality had been violated wantonly by the torpedoes two weeks ago of the Mexican ships Potrero del Llano and Faja de Oro.

An ovation of several minutes interrupted Avila Camacho when he said the "disloyal sneaking and cowardly attacks" had decided his government to "accept valiantly the realities of the world situation and ask for a declaration of war against Germany, Italy and Japan."

BIG ECONOMIC POOL SEEN IN VICTORY DRIVE

Lease-Lend Pacts Indicate World-Wide Grouping of Resources

POST-WAR PROGRAM IS KEPT IN SIGHT

New Pacts are Presented To Russian and Chinese Envoys

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 28.—A gigantic pooling of economic resources on a worldwide scale, first for the winning of the war and later for the winning of the peace, is indicated in lease-lend agreements reached or being negotiated between the United States and more than a score of anti-Axis countries.

The broad principles of lease-lend assistance and cooperation in the achievement of victory and establishment of a healthy world economy after the war were laid down in the agreement signed last February by Great Britain and the United States.

More Pacts In Sight

Tuesday the draft proposal for a similar agreement with Soviet Russia was handed to Ambassador Maxim Litvinov by Secretary of State Hull, and yesterday the draft of a proposed pact with China was transmitted to Chungking through Foreign Minister T. V. Soong.

In discussing the two proposals, Secretary Hull said the provisions generally were the same as those already entered into with Britain.

The agreement with Britain provides, among other things, that the precise and detailed items of settlement of lease-lend accounts shall be deferred "until the extent of the defense aid is known;" that full account shall be taken of all aid rendered to the United States, as well as aid rendered by the United States, and that the final terms and conditions of settlement shall be such as to promote world trade rather than hinder it.

Lease-lend aid in the form of ships, planes, tanks, guns and other materials already is flowing to Russia and China as well as to widely separated parts of the British empire, including the United Kingdom itself, India and Australia.

Lewis Ousts Vice President And Is Upheld By Board

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 28.—John L. Lewis today ousted Philip Murray, president of the CIO, from his $18,000 a year job as vice president of the United Mine Workers.

Lewis, president of the miners, decried the vice presidency vacant and was upheld by the UMW executive board by a vote of 17 to 1.

Lewis then named John O'Leary, Pittsburgh to Murray's place.

A UMW spokesman explained that under the union's constitution Murray, in effect, vacated his office when he accepted the salaried leadership of the Steel Workers' union.

Martin Wagner, representing district 50 of the UMW, cast the lone vote against ousting Murray.

WILL REVEAL TAX 'DODGES'

Morgenthau To Tell Congress Story of Bonuses and Big Salaries

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 28.—The treasury, it was learned today, will lay before a private meeting of congressional leaders evidence of excessive corporate salaries and bonuses, extravagant promotion expenditures, and other devices used to evade war taxes.

At the same time, the treasury delegation, to be headed by Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Assistant Secretary John L. Sullivan, is expected to discuss with the congressmen means of punishing evasion cases of holding down salaries through drastic enforcement of some old, little-used statutes.

The congressional group will be the members of the joint house and senate committee on internal revenue taxation.

Interesting Disclosures Seen

Since details were guarded, the nature of the treasury's data could only be judged from the fact that they were to be presented by Morgenthau in person at an undisclosed time.

U. S. SUB BAGS 4 JAP SHIPS

Two Sunk, Third Probably Sunk and Fourth Is Damaged

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 28.—The navy announced today that U. S. submarines in the western Pacific have sunk two Japanese ships, probably sunk a third, and damaged a fourth, the latter a heavy cruiser.

The latest report on American undersea activities was given out in a navy communique, No. 82, based on reports up to 1 p. m. today which said:

"FAIR EAST:

"1. Information has been received that U. S. submarines operating in the Far East have sunk or damaged enemy ships as shown below:

"(A) One large auxiliary ship sunk.

"(B) One medium-sized cargo ship sunk.

"(C) One medium-sized cargo ship severely damaged and probably sunk.

"(D) One heavy cruiser damaged by torpedo hits.

"2. These actions have not been announced in any previous navy department communique and are not related to the engagement in the Coral sea which was fought earlier this month.

"3. There is nothing to report from other areas."

These submarine actions, naval officials said, were presumed not to duplicate in any part a report issued at Allied headquarters in Australia several days ago in which several successful attacks by American undersea craft were disclosed.

Today's navy announcement raised the announced American submarine bag of Japanese ships to 44 vessels sunk, 13 probably sunk and 12 damaged.

1,000 DAYS OF WAR

Discussion of the war's length has been robbed of one point. It cannot be a short war, because it already is a long war—and there is no end in sight. The war has lasted 1,000 days.

Actually, it has lasted much longer than that. Japan opened war against China and the governments that believed in their commitments as long ago as the latter half of the Hoover administration. Germany's military campaign began with invasion of Austria in the spring of 1938. Italy's aggression began in 1934 with the campaign to subdue Ethiopia. The event in September, 1939, was not the beginning of war but only the formal recognition by Great Britain and France of a state of war that had been going steadily from bad to worse for many years. There had been no peace in Europe since Italy proved that the only governments which could prevent war here too preoccupied with self-interest to punish the invaders of Ethiopia. There had been no peace in Asia since Japan learned that China was protected by the League of Nations only in theory, not in fact.

These recollections become more important with passage of time; it is hard now to understand how so many men could have been so willfully blind. The thing they professed to cherish in the name of peace was not peace. It was paralysis in the presence of acute peril. They hoped it would go away if they refused to look at it, but instead it grew more terrifying. Then, finally the spell was broken and the victims began to defend themselves. It was too late for France, as it had been too late for Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. It was too late for Norway and Denmark, too late for Belgium and the Netherlands, too late for Greece, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Bulgaria. There were casualties in Asia and near-casualties, but today—after 1,000 days of open warfare—the battle is beginning to even up.

It may take 1,000 more days, or 2,000, or 3,000, but it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that the three original aggressor powers are not going to conquer what they need or hold what they have. And there is no more terror now—nothing but grim determination to create the circumstances of peace by first destroying the warmakers.

NO NAZI RADIO APPEAL

The chairman of the federal communications commission, James L. Fly, thinks it's worth boasting about that when a German radio broadcast told United States listeners to ask at their libraries for books containing anti-British propaganda they didn't ask. It's worth boasting about all right, but the emphasis should be on the work done to accomplish such condition.

In the United States, a library is an organization that deals with books, not propaganda; it is for people who want information, not prejudice. A radio is an instrument that makes it possible to listen to comedians cracking old jokes with new twists, soap operas, pep talks about breakfast food, music and to turn off anything that fails to be amusing. A radio listener, on the other hand, is a fellow who wants what he wants when he wants it. As often as not he may not want what he's getting, which means that he is going to quit taking it.

This differs sharply from the situation in Germany where, by all accounts, the natives have been so long without similar privileges that they will risk their necks to hear what a foreign propagandist wants to pour into their ears, though of course if it happened to be about a harmful book they could read the authorities would have taken care of that in advance. A very thorough people, the Germans, so thorough that they've never missed a bet yet to cut their own throats.

WAGE CEILING NOW SEMI-OFFICIAL

Attention being given to a recent speech by Marjorie S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, springs naturally from a widely held conviction that Mr. Eccles is on solid ground when he says all wages must be held down. That has not been government policy so far, but perhaps Mr. Eccles has made it semi-official.

Incredible as it seems, every compact minority in the country, except the white collar workers who always know in advance they're going to get squeezed, have dreamed about having this war both ways—the inflation and the sacrifice. Businessmen have hoped they might have profits and bonuses to make up for the high taxes; workers have hoped they might have high wages going ever higher, but without high prices.

Mr. Eccles spanks the businessmen verbally for their folly, but it has not been missed that he calls also, for restraint on wages, putting the case more strongly than any other highly placed administration official every put it before. Inflation, he says in effect, isn't something the other fellow prevents with his sacrifices; it is a job for everybody. It is a remarkable conclusion for a government official to make, even in wartime.

COSSACKS ETC.

What do the experts make of Cossacks bobbing up in Adolf Hitler's machine-made war and terrorizing the fighters of the super-race from horseback? What, in fact, has happened to all the experts? They are strangely quiet.

Things have not been going well from their point of view. The cavalry is outmoded but the cavalry reappears. There is striking similarity between armored knights on horseback and tank crews propelled by horsepower. The U. S. navy wishes it had a few airships and reports good results from motor-driven balloons in anti-submarine warfare. Ah yes, and the submarine, which was driven to cover 24 years ago for good, ranges far and wide with high success. All that remains to turn the experts topsy-turvy is for a battleship to shoot down 40 bombers without sustaining so much as a near-hit.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, May 29

EXCITEMENT, high pressure tactics and tempo may be looked for this day, judging by a very stimulating series of planetary aspects. This applies to all affairs, particularly large and important projects working in connection with public, community, fraternal and political activities as well as in co-operation with major corporations of a semi-private nature. While great progress and productivity are indicated, yet there is a retarding as well as a particular or surprising development to be rigorously dealt with, by decisive acts.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of much tension and stress, with the energies under high pressure and moving under enforced tempo in the direction of high places or objectives. This is probably in connection with public, group or fraternal interests, whose support is assured. But there may be certain erratic or peculiar situations, which may prove minor setbacks.

A child born on this day should be energetic, ambitious and public spirited, with practical versatility and constructive ability, although having some eccentricities.

At the rate they have been going in the last few weeks, the Chinese Army makes it unnecessary for the Japs to commit harakiri.

HOW HUMAN MACHINE IS IMPAIRED

Various Factors Discussed by Dr. Clendening

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YESTERDAY we inquired into the physiological definition of work as performed by the human body. We found there were three classes of work—maximal, heavy and moderate; that maximal work could only be performed for a very short time; that rest periods were imperative; that heavy work might be maintained for eight hours, but that rest periods made for economy and that moderate work—which is what most factory laborers perform—makes little drain on reserve muscular energy, oxygen consumption, heart rate and blood pressure.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Today we wish to inquire into the things that impair the human machine in attaining maximum efficiency and how they can be overcome. Naturally this will concern mostly the subject of moderate muscular work. We have already said that maximum work cannot be possibly performed without long rest periods and there is more efficiency in heavy work with short rest periods interspersed.

The situation can be illustrated by the example of factory workers who work standing benches and using small groups of muscles of the hands and arms. It must also be remembered that they use the muscles of the eyes. These people do not become fatigued on account of an excessive strain put upon the whole muscular system nor on account of strain on the heart and blood pressure. Very slight adjustments in physiological processes are required.

They become fatigued because of the strain of standing, which alone is fatiguing, and also because of the constitution of the nervous system which becomes tired from making repetitious movements and strain from the eyes. In other words, if a machine could do this work, it would never have to stop until the parts actually wore out or unless it became overheated. But since the human body has a nervous system attached to its machinery, fatigue and reduced efficiency in productivity inevitably take place.

Various factories have experimented with methods of overcoming this fatigue in a purely selfish endeavor to increase their production. It has been found that in a shoe factory where the workers eat three ordinary meals a day, production was increased by providing a forenoon and an afternoon lunch of a glass of milk and a piece of cake. These lunches and rest periods prevented decrease in productivity that showed up inevitably in the latter half of the morning and afternoon. There is undoubtedly a psychological factor in this too in the worker's feeling of good will.

In another factory it was found that shortening their working day by half an hour or an hour and changes in the temperature and humidity and even lunches did not greatly affect their hourly output.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes wash out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

What did affect their output was frequent spaced rest periods which allowed the workers to sit down, lie down or to be out of doors.

Recuperation, even from maximal work, occurs in about ten minutes in most subjects. Recuperation from heavy and moderate work therefore is proportional. Recovery from the emotional strain of continued work is a subject about which very little is known. Neither the physiologist nor the psychologist can provide the answer and probably an analysis of past associations and environmental conditions would be necessary.

Questions and Answers
Reader:—How many calories are in beer? How does it affect people on a diet?

Answer: A bottle of beer contains about 200 calories. Beer, on account of its alcoholic and carbohydrate content, has one of the highest caloric values of any of the beverages. As to what it does to a diet, I presume you mean a reducing diet. It blows it all to smithereens.

CRIME AT CASTAWAY by EDITH BRISTOL

SYNOPSIS
The moment Gerry Lane stepped over the threshold of "Castaway" to become secretary to Walter Gregg, wealthy contractor, she had a feeling of foreboding. It was just her employer feared something or something. Was it Worth the price with whom he had been in contact and who had sent Gregg's wife to a cliff, seriously injured him? The latter won a case in court now on appeal, and was trying to settle out of court. Or did it have something to do with the antagonism which existed in his home? Estelle Gregg's husband had no love for Martha's father, who managed the household. Estelle also resented the fact that the late Dawson, Gregg's eccentric uncle, was staying at the contractor's cottage in nearby Hidden Valley. Sydney, Estelle's sister, was the suave manager of Harry Gregg's Construction Company, and she gave up college to assist his father following the accident. Throughout was a feeling of distrust and watchful waiting. Gregg's first day at Castaway, while Gerry was working on the dam, the late Dawson, Gregg's uncle, slipped into the water, and was found with a message from Gerry. When Gerry goes to inform Martha, the woman disappears with a picture of Gregg hanging over the file. Martha, who had been in the room, places the photo with a duplicate. That night, Craven asks Gerry for a picture of everything she types for him, under the pretense of trying to make things easier for the man who was her father's contractor. When she refuses, he warns her against talking. Next day, Gerry overhears Craven warn his uncle, "If you don't get soon there'll be death to pay." Later, Martha tells Sheriff Nathan that she will benefit most, financially, by her brother's death. Castaway will go to her. Estelle's father is tied up in a trust fund. Gerry is sworn in as deputy sheriff so she can take testimony for Allen.

CHAPTER NINE
"Just as a formality," Allen explained, "we will begin with Martha Gregg." Her statement was brief and direct, and I need not refer to my diary for the facts, as it all in the record.
"I went to my brother's bedroom about 8 o'clock to see if he was settled for the night, and in his room suffering much pain in his injured shoulder. I urged him to take a sleeping pill—you know." Dr. Craven, those you left for him." The doctor nodded.
"My brother promised me he would take the medicine if he didn't go to sleep, and I left him—" "Did you go to your room then?" asked the sheriff.
"Not immediately. I got my car from the garage and drove up the alley to the stables to see about my colt, Hoodoo. He's been acting all week, and I wanted to make sure the groom was following the doctor's instructions. I stayed at the stables for half an hour—maybe longer—so it must have been nearly nine when I reached the ranch house again, garaged my car and came in. I came in through the kitchen and went into my own sitting room—this room—and only looked across the patio to see whether there was a light in the bedroom opposite. It was dark, so I took it for granted that my brother had gone to sleep."
"Did you hear any noises in the night?" Allen asked. "Did the dogs bark?"
"Nothing unusual. Lance and Craven and sometimes Estelle and Sydney are in the habit of coming late when they are stopping at the ranch, so I am in the habit of hearing cars drive in. I heard a car arrive some time in the night. One of the dogs barked. The rain made some noise and so did the wind—but not enough to arouse me. I heard nothing from my brother's room."

part of the house until Kobe came running to my door about 6—that's when I telephoned you—
That was all there was to Martha Gregg's statement and she made it in the same controlled voice that she had used ever since I entered her room.
My own story was even briefer. I had visited in the big living room with Miss Gregg until 8—the hour when she left to see her brother. Then I had crossed to my bungalow, read for an hour or so, heard the sound of backfire and a motor running, the wind and rain—that was all.
"Could you fix the hour of any of these sounds?" the sheriff asked me and I took down his question and my own answer.
"No, I did not look at my watch." Issu, a lighter brown than before from fright, and the cook and housemaid (who were man and wife) came next. They had even less to contribute. After their work was over they had gone to their quarters—they had rooms above the garage—had heard Miss Gregg's car drive out and, about 9, had heard it drive in again. All agreed no dogs had barked. They had not heard the sound of the backfire—nor had any other noises aroused them in the night.
Kobe's examination yielded more of value. The neat little chap was shaking still from his dreadful discovery of the early morning and Allen handled him considerably. I thought.
"What time did you last see Mr. Gregg last night?" he began.
"Please about half past 8—Mr. Gregg told me somebody is coming—to let him in. Issu has gone to his sleeping place above the garage—it is his job to answer door rings, but when door rings Mr. Gregg say this is man who telephoned. Will I go? I let him in at front door. He explain he is man who telephoned to Mr. Gregg."

"But who was it?" Martha spoke eagerly. "Walter didn't tell me he was expecting anyone."
"Please, the gentleman did not give name, but somebody did telephone earlier. He say 'Mr. Gregg is expecting me' so I let him into bedroom. Then Mr. Gregg instruct me to go to my own room—that is back of the kitchen. He said 'Do not come back unless I ring.' He did not ring. I wait until maybe 10 o'clock studying English text books. The strange gentleman did not seem to go out and I am slightly concerned." Kobe sucked his teeth and looked helplessly from the doctor to the sheriff. "If I have done a wrong thing you will forgive me, please.... but when a Japanese boy is instructed by the gentleman who employs him 'please do not return, what is Japanese boy expected, then, to do?"
"Go o, Kobe," Allen said, "what next?"
"At 10 o'clock I come outside the house and stand in the patio. There is a light in Miss Gregg's room—here where we are—but no light in Mr. Gregg's room. So what can I think except that the strange gentleman have concluded his visit and departed. All is quiet—so I go to bed."
Noises of motors speeding up the hill road, screaming of brakes pulled to a sudden stop on the gravel slope before the garage, and sound of rapid feet running across the patio broke in on Kobe's words. My eyes were fixed on my notebook and so I did not see who it was that crossed the court—but almost immediately afterward there was a quick knock on the sitting room door. Dr. Henry opened it and Lance Gregg strode into the room. He nodded to the sheriff and the doctor and in three long steps was across the room with his arms around Martha. Neither spoke.

She bent her head against his breast and he patted her shoulder in wordless consolation. So they stood for a minute or two and the room was again so silent that the ticking of the clock on the mantle became a loud noise, and the distant beating of the surf came like muted drums through the open windows.
Lance broke the silence first. "I am very sorry I interrupted you gentlemen. Please go ahead with what you were saying when I broke in on you."
But before Allen could frame the next question for the still frightened Kobe, another knock, this time soft and measured, sounded at the door and again the doctor opened it. This time it was Harry Craven.
Craven was completely self-possessed, I remember thinking at the time, for a young man who has only just learned of the violent death of his employer. His greetings to Allen and the doctor were spoken in a low voice. He crossed the room to Miss Gregg, offered his hand and said, "I am sure you know, Miss Gregg, of my deep and sincere sympathy in this terrible loss. Please feel free to command me in every possible way." His nicely framed sentence annoyed me. Great sorrow doesn't lead to well-framed sentences, my instinct told me.
Allen was the next to speak. "We have one more question to ask of Kobe." Turning to the valet—"Did you know who the gentleman was, Kobe?"

The boy shook his slick black head. "No, please. I have never seen him before."
"Sure?"
"Very sure, thank you. He have never called since I have come to wait on Mr. Gregg. But—"

"But what, Kobe? What were you going to say?"
"Please, I think it so funny—so very funny—about Domino in the night time—"

"But Domino didn't do anything in the night time—"

"Yes, please," Kobe nodded vigorously. "That is what is so very funny. He did no bark!"

TREASURY LASHES SALES TAX PLANS

Feel Proposal Would Cause Hardship For Low-Income Families

WASHINGTON, May 28 — Treasury experts laid down a hammering barrage against sales tax sentiment today as the house ways and means committee sought to make up a $2,000,000 deficit it already has piled up against the administration's revised $8,900,000,000 tax goal.

Despite the prospective shortage, department statisticians remained adamant against any form of a sales tax, primarily on the theory that it would bring disproportionate hardships to the low-income families.

"We have argued against the sales tax on its merits only thus far," one of the experts said. "When we finish explaining the administrative difficulties, some of the members on the fence will change quickly."

The treasury staff launched its direct attack on either a manufacturer's, wholesaler's or retail sales levy at an extraordinary meeting of the committee last night.

The treasury estimated two months ago that a 5 per cent retail sales tax, exempting government purchases, would produce $2,500,000,000.

Having tentatively disposed of new corporation and individual income tax proposals, the committee has run squarely into the alternatives of accepting treasury recommendations for increasing excise taxes by more than $1,000,000,000 or adopting some form of sales tax.

Members said, meanwhile, that the treasury shortly would present a sharp downward revision of its March 3 estimates that its program of new excises would produce $1,340,000,000. It was learned that one of the major changes would be in Morgenthau's request for a doubling of the present 1 1/2 cent gasoline tax, which he said would produce $242,000,000.

The committee's night session followed close on its decision to reject a treasury proposal that estate and gift taxes be increased to bring $330,000,000 into the treasury.

GOVERNMENT BANS LABOR "PIRATING"

Essential Workers Forbidden to Change Jobs in Vital War Industries

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Hundreds of thousands of essential workers are forbidden to change jobs in war industries under government orders being drawn up today to stop "pirating" of skilled men by rival manufacturers.

Orders being prepared by the war manpower commission for immediate issuance make the United States Employment Service the "sole hiring agency for critical skills in critical areas." The effect will be to prevent workers from changing from one plant to another without approval of the government agency.

A spokesman for the manpower commission said "pirating" through offers of higher pay had become so widespread, especially in the aircraft industry, that it interfered with war production.

The manpower commission also drafted plans for classification of war plants according to their urgency and for a system of manpower priorities. Local draft boards will be asked to consult with federal employment service offices in deciding on deferments of war workers.

COLUMBUS, May 28.—Wade Hammond, Ohio director for the U. S. Employment Service, and Col. C. W. Goble, state selective service director, today urged registrants to fill out occupational questionnaires carefully because these will constitute permanent job qualification records.

LOST-BOMBER CREW BACK 'HOME' AGAIN

Seven Men Make Way Out of New Guinea Swamps After 45 Days

(By Associated Press)

An Allied Operational Base, Australia, May 28.—After 45 days in New Guinea's swampy hinterlands, where their plane was forced down, a United States bomber crew of seven reached this base—tattered but smiling.

Their was the longest period of brush wandering recorded among Allied fliers.

Pilot Louis W. Ford, 22, of Los Angeles headed the doughty crew, which included two Ohioans, Lieut.

John H. Disbro, 21, of Defiance and Private Robert Long of Centerville, Knox county, Lieut. Edward S. Ashley, San Antonio, Tex., and Privates J. E. Ochs, Lancaster, Pa., J. A. Roberts, Kingston, Pa., and W. F. Loranger, Saginaw, Mich.

Go for Fresh Food

Cleanly-cooked food and American cigarettes quickly erased the unpleasant recollections of malaria and tropical ulcers from which the aviators suffered during their travels among the native tribes.

Pilot Ford explained that the bomber was crippled by Japanese anti-aircraft fire after it "got what we went after at Rabaul." The craft limped away on only one engine, sometimes less than 100 feet above water.

"We came down a few miles inland on a marsh," said Ford. "The only clear spot we could find had a tree in the middle. The field was covered with cane grass, which is pretty good for skidding. We hit going more than 100 miles an hour, skidded around a hundred yards and wrapped a wing around the tree."

Food dropped to them by an Allied plane fell too far away to be recovered.

Ford, Disbro and Long waded waist-deep in swamp water to a river, found a native canoe and paddled to a coastal village.

"The natives were very friendly," said Disbro. "They gave us paw-paws, bananas and coconuts, and they did their best to take care of us for eight days."

A Church of England missionary and an Australian government representative then guided the fliers to another village, where the crew spent three weeks. They shot two 15-foot pythons for diversion. Picked up by another boat, they spent two more weeks in a second village before reaching this base.

DAIRYMEN WILL USE
NEW BREEDING PLAN

Columbiana and Mahoning county dairymen will soon be breeding their cows artificially through the newly formed organization which is a subsidiary of the Trumbull-Ashtabula Breeders' association. At a meeting of the board of directors of the above named association and a committee of dairymen from Columbiana county held in Warren last week it was decided to form the association and start breeding work in Columbiana and Mahoning counties by the middle of June or soon after. It was decided to hire two additional veterinarians to help Dr. James with the breeding work.

Members of the association will be able to breed their cows to better blood lines than the average dairyman can afford to own. Over 100 members with approximately 1,000 cows have been signed in the organization and many more will be signed in the very near future.

The Columbiana-Mahoning committee temporarily acting as directors is composed of Fred Kohler and Otis Rhodes from Mahoning county and Walter Cole and Ernest Moser from Columbiana county. Donald Fosco of Salem is acting as secretary-treasurer of the two-county group until an organization can be effected. The organization now has nine bulls in service including Jersey, Guernsey, and Holstein breeds. All dairymen in Columbiana and Mahoning counties who are interested in this new breeding association should get in touch with one of the committee members or their county extension agent.

To Release Flow Of LIVER BILE

Normally about a quart of digestion-aiding bile should be discharged into the intestines every 24 hours. A scanty flow—a slowing-up may cause sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion with its "half-sick," sour depressed feeling.

If you suffer from such symptoms because you need more bile released from the gall-bladder, try world famous Kruschen Salts. Get a bottle tonight—start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast, or in your morning cup of tea or coffee, and keep it up for 30 days, don't miss a morning, and note the results for yourself. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U.S.A., at the Lease Drug Co. or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.

CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS
Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quick-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.

BUS LINE COMPANY DROPS EXCURSIONS

To save rubber and gas, and to conserve equipment for war time use, Penn-Ohio Coach Lines company has filed notices with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Interstate Commerce Commission to cancel all special Sunday and holiday excursion tariffs.

The action was announced today by M. M. Malmer, general manager of the interurban bus company, which operates throughout eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia.

With the nation's rubber situation acute and the probability that gas rationing would soon be extended to this section of the country, it was felt, Malmer said, that the time had come when it was necessary to abandon the practice of the company of giving special excursions on Sundays and holidays.

Washingtonville Youth Is Honored

WASHINGTONVILLE, May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kornbau entertained at dinner on Sunday, honoring their son, Edgar, who graduated from Leetonia High school on Thursday evening. He will leave soon for Chicago, where he has enrolled in the Coyne Electrical school. ## Liberalize Rules For Home Canning

With a view to conserving the nation's fruit crop, OPA has issued a new sugar rationing regulation which will permit home canners to obtain sugar in proportion to the amount of fruit canned. Previously a person could obtain a total of five pounds per year for home canning. Under this amendment, home canners may now obtain one pound of sugar for every four quarts of finished canned fruit. An additional one pound per year for each person in the family may be obtained for making jams, jellies, preserves, and fruit butters. One purpose of the regulation is to encourage canning instead of preserving because of the lesser amount of sugar used.

Sugar rationing for fruit canning will be done by local rationing boards largely on the basis of the amount of home canning an individual or family unit has normally processed, availability of fruits, and related factors. Applicants for canning sugar may obtain certificates for purchasing such sugar by filing OPA application form R-315 with the local board. They must supply the following information:

1. Names of consumers for whom the application is filed and the serial numbers of their war ration books.
2. The number of quarts of fruit canned last year.
3. The number of quarts of fruit in their possession.
4. The number of quarts of fruit they intend to can.
5. Whether sugar is to be used for preserving.
6. The excess sugar supply on hand when war ration books were issued.

No sugar allotted for fresh fruit canning may be used for jams, jellies, preserves, and fruit butters. However, sugar obtained on the basis of stamps in War ration books may be so used. If sugar allotted for home canning is not used in accordance with regulations, stamps will be removed from war ration books to cover the amount of sugar improperly used. The time and places at which applications may be filed for sugar for home canning will be announced by local boards.

NO PUBLICITY ON TIRE QUOTAS, EDICT

COLUMBUS, May 28.—State Rationing Administrator Harry T. Beckmann today issued orders prohibiting county coordinators and local rationing boards from releasing to the press or the public any information on county tire and tube quotas.

Beckmann's order followed a communication from John E. Hamm senior deputy administrator of the Office of Price Administration, who said that announcements covering tire and tube quotas by county coordinators and local rationing boards had served only to confuse the public.

Hamm in his letter to Beckmann said: "We are fully conscious of our responsibility in keeping the people of your state, and the rest of the country, informed about the rationing program. Such information is released continually by our office or where desirable is sent to you as information which may be made public. All other data, however, is confidential and should not be made public."

"This office makes available to the press and the national and state quotas; however, county quotas are not publicly released by this office, nor are they sent to you as 'information which may be made public.'"

"State rationing administrators and local boards are prohibited, therefore, from releasing to the press or the public any information on county quotas."

closed nocturnal meeting place. One informed source, when asked if the material was "sensational", replied:

"I don't think people will lay down their papers before they have read every word of it."

This also implied that the findings might be made public after tonight's meeting. To outward appearances, they resembled treasury testimony a few years ago on methods used by wealthy persons to evade taxes by incorporating yachts, personal holding companies and other elaborate devices.

A possible preview of some of the material was contained in recent findings of the house naval affairs committee, which brought out that the Cleveland firm of Jack & Heinz, Inc., paid a woman secretary $39,356 last year.

Meanwhile Edward Toland, counsel for the same committee, disclosed that he had been ordered to turn over to the internal revenue bureau a transcript of testimony taken yesterday which showed that another Cleveland company gave out $2,000,000 in employee bonuses last year.

Orders From Vinson

Toland said the orders came from Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), after the committee heard James F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric company, contend that the bonus system had saved the government $35,000,000 on war contracts for welding equipment and electrodes.

Lincoln denied that there had been any attempt on his part to evade the excess profits tax.

Toland contended the government would have realized $4,438,916 more in taxes from the company for the period 1939-1941, inclusive, if it had not handed out the bonuses.

Lease-Lend Pacts Indicate Grouping of Resources To Win War

addition, defense materials are flowing to 16 American republics with which the United States has signed lease-lend agreements. More than half of these have declared war on the Axis and the others are cooperating with the United States in hemisphere defense measures.

Lease-lend aid, as interpreted in the master agreement signed with Britain, is on a reciprocal basis. That is, recipients undertake to supply to the United States such aid as they are in a position to give.

In other words, resources of all kinds are being pooled in the common war effort: American tanks and Russian soldiers, American planes and British pilots, American guns and Chinese gunners. In the final settlement of lease-lend accounts, therefore, less emphasis is likely to be placed on striking a bookkeeper's balance than on cooperative measures to get world economy on its feet again.

Salvation Army Again at the Front

AMERICA'S FIGHTING MEN in the Asiatic, African, and European combat zones today are coming to the Salvation Army canteen for doughnuts and coffee, just as many of their fathers did in 1917-18, according to Salvationist officers here. This mobile unit (above), at a remote coastal outpost, is one of four serving the Hawaiian Islands. The Army not only has Red Shield clubhouses catering to American forces in Australia, New Zealand, Iceland, and the British Isles, but it operates 74 United Service Organizations centers in 29 states from Maine to California.

The Salvation Army citadel here stands ready to help in time of war. It is a part of the Northeastern Ohio division which comprises 35 corps, five men's institutions, one women's organization, three hospitals, three large camps and five hotels, all available and ready. In the event of an emergency in this area, Captain Robert Barton of the local corps would contact the zone commander and the Salvation Army facilities would be rallied here. Lieut. Robert Langford is the assistant officer of the local Salvation Army barracks.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

To win battles you must get there "fastest with the mostest" today as in the time of the stalwart cavalry leader Bedford Forrest. The half-track is the mechanized cavalry of our army today. It has a truck body and front wheels, powered like a tank.

One of these half tracks costs about $11,000 and our automotive factories are turning them out by the thousands. But if everybody in your community buys War Bonds your town could easily buy one or more of these tank powered trucks. They are vital to our army. Buy War Bonds every pay day and help beat your county quota.

Gasoline consumption normally accounts for 40 per cent of the total demand for petroleum products on the U. S. east coast.

New War Bonnet

Arnold Headley

Yankee Forkball Ace Has Good Chance To Win 30 Games

TINY BONHAM COPS SEVENTH STRAIGHT IN DEFEATING A'S

Dodgers Increase Margin In Senior Circuit To Six Games

By JUDSON BAILEY

The most coveted pitching goal in the major leagues is 30 victories in a season. It is much more valuable, and a whole lot more difficult to obtain, than a no-hitter.

The feat hasn't been accomplished since Dizzy Dean did it for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934 and it hasn't been done in the American league since 1931 when Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove won 31 for the Philadelphia Athletics.

After Bob Feller joined the navy last winter there didn't seem to be a pitcher anywhere likely to achieve the pinnacle this season—or next, either.

Chances Look Good

Yet, Ernie (Tiny) Bonham, big righthand ace of the New York Yankees, apparently has found the right trail and his chances look about as good as Feller's ever did.

Bonham bagged his seventh straight victory yesterday, 8-3, from the Philadelphia Athletics. He pitched an expert seven-hit game without allowing a walk.

The big fellow is no strikeout specialist, but his "forkball" baffles the batters and his control is amazing. In seven games this season he has walked only five batters.

He may not win 30 games, because there are only 24 weeks in a season and he may not get to work often enough. But at present he is right on the beam—approximately one-fourth of the victories in one-fourth of the season.

The Yankees gave Bonham a five-run boost in the fourth inning as they coasted to their 16th victory in 19 games.

Red Sox Snap Slump

The Boston Red Sox came out of a slump to overpower the Washington Senators, 10-1, in a night game.

Chicago's usually weak-hitting White Sox collected 17 hits at Cleveland, but had plenty of trouble taming the Indians, 9-7.

The St. Louis Browns backed up Johnny Niggeling with extra-base hitting to beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-2. Walt Juhnich led the attack with a homer, a double and a single.

The Brooklyn Dodgers increased their National league lead to six games by beating the Boston Braves, 4-1, with a three-run ninth-inning rally.

Bucky Walters pitched seven-hit ball as the Cincinnati Reds conquered the Chicago Cubs, 10-1.

The surging St. Louis Cardinals moved into second place slightly ahead of Boston by routing the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3.

Bob Carpenter pitched the New York Giants to a 6-2 decision over the Phils in a night game at Philadelphia.

DI RIENZOS EDGE ROBERTS BY 7-3

Capitalizing on several enemy misplays and using their trio of hits to best advantage, the DeRienzo Spaghett Shoppe team trimmed Roberts Men's shop by a 7-3 count at Centennial park last night.

DeRienzo's pounded across five runs in the third frame to virtually clinch the game but when Roberts came back with one in each of the three following chapters, they tallied two more in the seventh to play safe.

Bill Ritchie paced the Roberts team at the plate with three hits in four times up while Al Zoccolo garnered two safeties to lead DeRienzo's. The teams combined made 13 errors in the nine inning game.

Kelley Schedules Meeting Of B Managers Tomorrow

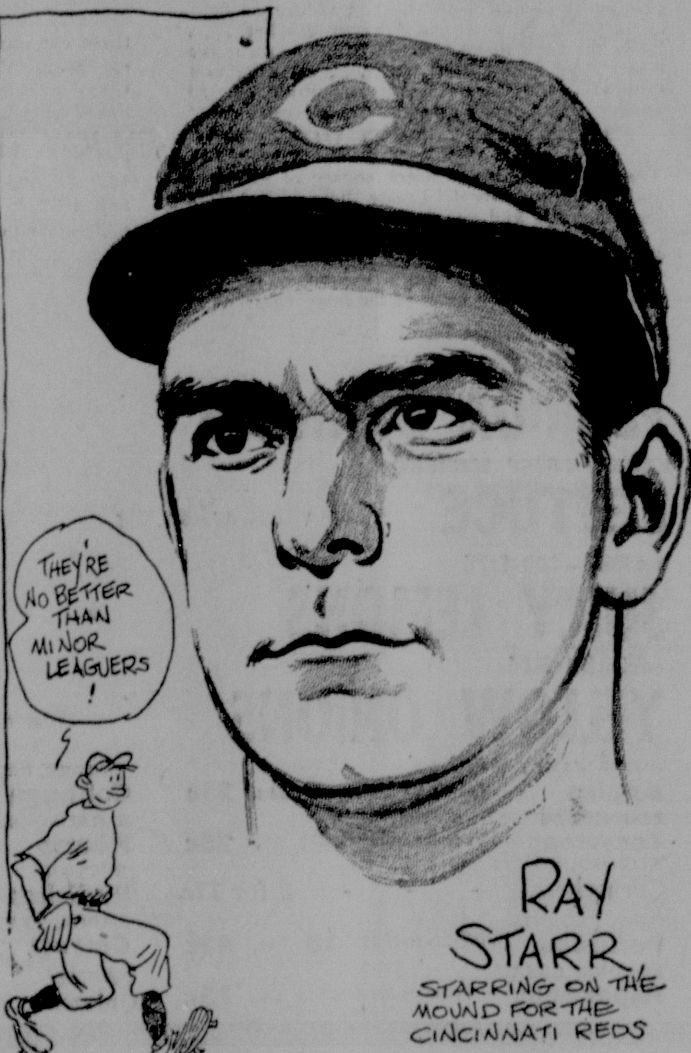

Joe Kelley, city recreational director, urged that all managers interested in entering a team in a Class B league to be organized in the near future report at the Memorial building at 7:30 p. m. Friday for a meeting.

The loop will not have church teams as in the past but independent Class B outfits which have already played several games. Kelley requests a good turnout so that plans can be made for a late opening of the Class B season here.

Book Store Tigers Win Two, 18-5, 7-1

The Salem Book Store Tigers added two more wins to their fast growing total as they trounced the Salem Clippers in both ends of a twin bill at Reilly field last night. The Bengals backed up Paul Horning's five hit pitching job with a 20-hit attack to win the first game by an 18-5 tally.

Ray Wise led the attack with four hits in five times up while Walt Brian and Bob Wagoner got three apiece. Wise and Brian each poled out a brace of round trippers while Wagoner smashed out one. Kozar on the mound for the Clippers, was charged with the defeat.

Charles "Mutt" Schaeffer pitched and batted himself to a 7-1 win in the nightcap as he gave the Clippers but two scattered hits and collected a trio of safeties himself. He was ably assisted in the hitting department by Horning and Wayne Laughlin, each of whom drove out two safe blows.

The Tigers' record now stands at nine wins and two losses.

"Sugar" Robinson Battles Servo, Seeks 121st In Row

NEW YORK, May 28.—Ray Robinson, the Harlem Hammer, is a 1 to 4 favorite over Coast Guardsman Marty Servo in their boxing battle at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Robinson had a tough time beating Servo in their last meeting in September, but the experts agreed he could do it this evening and

PGA TOURNEY GOES INTO SECOND ROUND AT SEA VIEW CLUB

Ben Hogan-Laffoon Match Excites Links Fans: Nelson Favored

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTIC CITY, May 28.—The outstanding match in the second round of the Professional Golfers association championship at the sprawling Sea View club today appeared to be the one between Ben Hogan and Ky Laffoon.

Either that or the match between Craig Wood, the National Open champion, and Leland Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., who is little known in big-money circles but who has been shooting a lot of golf here.

Something like 100 professionals from every corner of the country started play in the qualifying round three days ago, yet of the 16 still in there pitching today there were only two who might be termed outsiders.

One of them was the aforementioned Gibson. The other was Tom Harmon of Montclair, N. J. The other 14 were tested veterans.

Byron Nelson, the favorite, reached the second round without exertion.

Gibson Shoots Well
Gibson appeared to have the best chance of scoring an upset today. He shot surprisingly good golf in the qualifying round and kept it up in an overwhelming Jimmy Gault of Longview, Texas, in yesterday's first round. He had a 69 in the morning—three strokes under par—and took only 32 for the outward nine in the afternoon in beating Gault 10 to 9.

But Wood, veteran of a hundred big tournaments, was six under par when he closed out Rod Munday of Toledo, 5 and 4, yesterday.

Harmon, the only other "outsider" among the survivors, faced Jimmy Demaret, who beat Corp. Vic Ghezzi, the defending champion, 4 and 3, in the opening 36-hole test.

Sammy Byrd, the former big league outfielder, carried almost the unanimous support of the gallery into yesterday's feature match against Sam Snead. But in the end it was Snead, the crack money player, by a lopsided margin of 7 and 6.

Lakers Face Three Game Holiday Slate

Lake Placid, winner of its first three games, faces a heavy weekend slate with two games being scheduled for Decoration day, Saturday, and another game Sunday. The Cleveland ABC nine will appear here Saturday with most of last year's star-studded aggregation as well as several members of the Cardinal nine of the same city, now disbanded. The Cardinals were one of the three opponents able to defeat the Lakers' last season.

Manager Joe Schwartzoff has stated that he will use Earl Branfield, "Bus" Simpson and Johnny Hrovatic on the mound and at the

Major League Heads Set Times for All-Star Games

William Harridge, K. M. Landis and Ford Frick

First all-star baseball game this year is scheduled for New York's Polo Grounds, Monday, July 6, starting at 5:30 p. m., E. W. T. The second game will be played in Cleveland the next night. That's the decision made by the heads of the American and National leagues and Commissioner K. M. Landis during a meeting in Chicago. The American league chief, William Harridge, is at the left, and the National, Ford Frick, at right.

CHISOX EDGE TRIBE IN SLUGFEST, 9 TO 7

DETROIT, May 28.—Perhaps a change of scenery will take the Cleveland Indians' minds off a none too successful string of games on their home grounds. They dropped their sixth contest in the last seven yesterday in Cleveland, 9 to 7, to the Chicago White Sox and wound up their home stay with nine wins and eight defeats.

It was some consolation, however to contemplate the fact they remained in second place all through the slump.

After a pair of games here, the Tribe will return to Cleveland for a double bill on Decoration Day with the St. Louis Browns, then traipse out to St. Louis for a pair of games Sunday. After that they will spend two weeks in the east.

Chicago collected 17 hits yesterday in downing the Indians, including Joe Kuhel's three-run homer in the second inning. Fourteen of the hits were off Jim Bagby in seven and one-third innings, as a result, Bagby's account now stands at two lost and six won.

The Indians made homers, too, but in vain. Bagby and Roy Weatherly slammed successive four-baggers in the second and third innings and Les Fleming registered another in the fifth with one aboard.

Johnny Humphries, a former Indian, was batted out in the fifth, but his successor Joe Haynes put the hex on the Tribe and shut them out the rest of the way.

WARTIME NEEDS

CHANGE

GREYHOUND SCHEDULES

EFFECTIVE WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3RD...

Greyhound buses will operate on new war-time schedules. This change in service is being made in order to cooperate to the fullest extent with the war-time plans of the Office of Defense Transportation. The purpose is to make every bus work full time — keeping vital traffic on the move.

America's war program has the right of way! The great majority of the people Greyhound is carrying today and intends to carry efficiently are selectees traveling to examination centers, fighting men on leave or furlough, war workers moving to their jobs, businessmen traveling on essential work. The trips they take are necessary to keep the war program rolling.

With increased service demanded for war production areas—and little increase in buses available—it is necessary to divert equipment to routes where it is most needed.

REDS WIN BENEFIT BATTLE FROM CUBS

CHICAGO, May 28—Cincinnati's Reds are getting the notion, a little late, that they can win a ball game any time they feel like it.

If they feel like it again today against the Cubs, Ray Starr has had his sixth victory of the year and the Reds stretch their winning streak to five. General Bill Lee is the Chicago pitcher.

Yesterday's 10-1 decision over the Cubs gave the Reds a chance to show they could hit on occasion and Buckey Walters a chance to prove that he could still pitch.

The Reds made 13 safeties, and scored seven times in the fourth, when Gee Walker hit a four-bagger with the bases loaded. Eddie Joost and Max Marshall each had a trio of hits.

The victory brought Walters' record up to four and four. The game was played as the second half of a doubleheader making $10,455 for army-navy relief. Teams from Camp Grant and the Great Lakes naval training station opened the afternoon, the Sailors winning, 4 to 1.

Jungle Troops Stand Ready To Defend Panama Isthmus

PANAMA, Republic of Panama—Any enemy which attempts a large-scale land attack against the Isthmus of Panama will face a defender who is eager and thoroughly trained for his job.

This was amply demonstrated last month when thousands of United States Army troops participated in the largest maneuvers ever held on the Isthmus.

Observation of Japanese infiltration and jungle tactics in the Philippines, Singapore, Malaya, Burma, and China have taught valuable lessons to military strategists throughout the world. Nowhere has the lesson been taken more to heart than by the officers in command of the Panama Canal department, where steaming jungles, fetid swamps, and rugged mountains duplicate in many respects the terrain over which the Japanese swarmed to win their battles, thus far, in the Far East.

Attack Without Warning

The maneuvers made use of thousands of men who have spent months in the jungles conditioning themselves and bringing their minds and bodies to the highest peak of efficiency for this type of warfare.

The men, hard, tanned, tireless marchers and fighters, know the country thoroughly. They have been trained to creep through apparently impenetrable forests, to make long forced marches, to attack suddenly, without warning, and in general to accomplish the seemingly impossible.

The maneuvers indicated that these jungle-trained American soldiers are capable of meeting a tireless, wily enemy and, using his own tactics, defeat him soundly.

The Yellow, or attacking, forces in the maneuvers used infiltration tactics, forced marches, and surprise attacks. When it was over, the attackers had spent their force without accomplishing their objective—destruction of the Panama Canal.

Self-Sufficient in Jungle

As an illustration of the methods employed by the Yellow forces, it can be cited that they staged a 15-hour march of 26 miles through jungles, over a mountain more than 3,000 feet high, and out onto a plateau. There they attacked a numerically superior Blue, or defending, army.

The Yellow force had enough stamina remaining to march an additional 20 miles that night in another sweeping infiltration movement. Both marches failed in their final objectives and this must be construed as a tribute to the jungle skill of the defending troops who also employed trained jungle fighters.

During the months these troops have been trained in this rough country, they have received specialized equipment for the type of work they perform. Specific details may not be revealed, but it may be said that once finished with his training, the American jungle fighter is a self-sustaining, mobile, self-sufficient, fighting man who knows both the difficulties and disadvantages of his territory.
